Media Announcement

QUADRANT'S ATF SERVICES ACQUIRED BY CHAMP

Funds advised by Quadrant Private Equity ("Quadrant") and CHAMP Private Equity ("CHAMP") are pleased to announce the sale of ATF Services ("ATF") from Quadrant Private Equity Fund I to the CHAMP III Funds.

ATF is Australia's leading provider of temporary fence and height safety services to the residential, non-residential, engineering construction and special events sectors. ATF has the leading market share in both the temporary fencing and height safety markets and is the only provider with a national presence in both markets.

Quadrant Managing Director, Mr Chris Hadley, said "ATF has been a great investment for Quadrant. During our ownership revenue has increased significantly and earnings have nearly doubled. It's been a busy twelve months for Quadrant and given the volatility in global markets it's good to be able to return money to our investors via the realisation of investments in Kathmandu and ATF."

Quadrant Director, Mr George Penklis, said "it has been particularly pleasing the way the business performed during the recent economic downturn which demonstrated the strength of the management team and business model."

CHAMP Director, Mr John Haddock, said "We are delighted to have acquired ATF from Quadrant. ATF is a very solid business and given its leading market position, ability to generate cash and proven management team, it's a very appropriate first investment for our new CHAMP III buy-out fund."

Mr Haddock also noted, "The acquisition of ATF is Australia's first tertiary buy-out and demonstrates the continued maturing of the domestic private equity market and CHAMP's pioneering heritage. The company was previously owned by CHAMP Ventures so there is good institutional knowledge of this business and what it is capable of."

ATF Chief Executive Officer, Mr Mike Foureur, welcomed the completion of the transaction. "Quadrant has been a very supportive owner of ATF. They have contributed significant capital and strategic insight enabling us to continue our track record of strong growth."

Mr Foureur added, "However, it's good to be rejoining the CHAMP family. They know us well and have a history of taking companies to the next level which is the major strategic focus for ATF."

Headquartered at Homebush in Sydney, ATF employs approximately 180 people in offices throughout Australia and New Zealand.
